Reviews

A high quality pdf as well as the typeface applied was exciting to see. It really is written in simple words and phrases rather than difficult to understand. You will not really feel monotony at any time of your time (that's what catalogs are for relating to in the event you question me).

Could you see the muscles of his arms? How did his face look? What can you tell us about his hair? Using these questions to aid you, you may write a description of the village blacksmith LESSON VIII. THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH. 1. Under a spreading chestnut tree The village smithy stands; The smith, a mighty man is he, With large and sinewy hands; And the muscles of his brawny arms Are strong as iron bands. 2. His hair is crisp and black and long, His face is like the tan; His brow is wet with honest sweat, He earns whate er he can, And looks the whole world in the face, For he owes not any man. 3.-Week in, week out, from morn till night, You can hear his bellows blow; You can hear him swing his heavy sledge, With measured beat and slow, Like the sexton ringing the village bell, When the evening sun is low. 4. And the children coming home from school Look in at the open door; They love to see the flaming forge, And hear the bellows roar, And watch the burning sparks that fly Like chaff from the threshing floor. 5. He goes on Sunday to the church, And sits among his boys; He hears the parson pray and preach, He hears his daughter s voice, Singing in the village choir, And it makes his heart rejoice. 0. It sounds to him like her mother s...
